Merchant Protection Program

Add value for your merchants with integrated threat prevention, endpoint management, and resolution services for identity theft and data breaches.

The truth is many merchants are not equipped to handle the onslaught of security threats and industry regulations that come with processing payments. Though a gold standard for protecting cardholder data, PCI standards are insufficient to safeguard businesses indefinitely. Additional measures must be taken to create a secure environment for payment processing.

Offer your merchants more value with Aperia's Merchant Protection Program, which includes AI-driven threat protection for device-based attacks, endpoint management, breach protection, and resolution services for business and personal identity theft.
